Karen Severson posted:

Erville and I became friends while caring for a mutual friend. We enjoyed many times of fellowship, and laughter from Erville's jokes and riddles, many of which he made up himself. When Erville moved to Home Harbor we visited together regularly and enjoyed many pleasant visits, always ending with a prayer of thanks to Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior for our salvation. I will miss Erville even tho he is in a better place.

Deb Flamino lit a candle in honor of Erville.

Erville, in our memories, was a quiet man of very few words with a warm and hearty laugh. Times shared were, though too few, at the holiday family get-togethers. He will be missed and always remembered in heart and mind! God's Peace to him and the Phegley family! Love to all, Deb and Vicki
